

Pipeline Sleepers/Supports

Durable, economical and easy to install, the Century precast concrete pipeline sleepers/supports are the answer to problems associated with metal, wood and cast-in-place concrete pipe sleepers. With the Century precast concrete pipeline sleeper there is no more corrosion or decay problems. Manufactured of high-strength steel reinforced concrete, the Century pipeline sleepers are resistant to salt and corrosive environments.

With the Century precast pipeline sleepers, the product is delivered to the jobsite and can be set immediately when required, versus the cast-in-place sleepers which require costly onsite construction, supervision, weather delays and the task of getting ready-mix concrete to the most remote project sites.

Century Group Inc. can work with owners, engineers and pipeline contractors in designing the precast concrete pipeline sleepers that meets the specific project requirements. We can manufacture a diverse line of concrete pipeline sleepers in a variety of shapes and sizes. The precast concrete sleepers feature recessed lifting units for safe, easy and efficient handling in the field.
